THOMAS MARSHALL, VICE PRESIDENT FOR EIGHT YEARS, DIES.

Washington, June 1.—The body of former Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, who died here Monday will rest indefinitely in a receiving vault at Crown Hill cemetery, Indianapolis.

Washington, June 1.—Thomas R. Marshall, wartime vice president of the United States, died here Monday.

He passed away at the New Willard hotel here where he had been ill for several days with a cold and a heart affection. The end came unexpectedly, as the former vice president had shown some improvement in the week he had been confined to his hotel room, and his plans had been made for his return to his home in Indianapolis some time this week.

Accompanied by his wife, Mr. Marshall came to Washington a week ago Monday. On his arrival he went directly to the hotel, complaining of great exhaustion. When physicians were summoned it was found he had suffered from a heart attack. He regained strength gradually, however, and soon was in such a condition that it was possible for Mrs. Marshall to leave the bedside to attend to various personal errands around the capital.

Sixty billion cigarettes were smoked in the United States in 1924.

The speed of the waves was measured on a trip from Southampton to Trinidad. It varied from one mile an hour to a little more than eight miles an hour.

Gas warfare was not unknown to the Spartans, who in 431 B. C. in besieging the cities of Belium and Plataea, burned pitch and sulphur under the walls of the cities to broil down their defense by suffocating the defending troops.

Farmers! Logmen!

Are your Mules and Horses worth a penny per day to you? It has been truthfully said "a horse is no better than his foot." Do not neglect your horse or mule until his hoof has broken and split off, leaving the tender sole exposed.

Neglect causes the animal great inconvenience and pain. It costs you enormously in inefficient work and extra feed. Clean your horse's feet every morning when he leaves his stable and trim his hoofs properly at least every thirty days.

Bring your work to AUBURN KITE (the Arm horse shoe) at the National Guard Corral, corner of Buford and Adkins Streets. My work approved by Army officials.

County Agent Talks on Cotton and The Boll Weevil Situation; Recommends Use of Calcium Arsenate Where Prospects Are Good

It is just before time to begin poisoning cotton in a big way, and a few suggestions dropped here might save enthusiastic weevil fighters a goodly sum of money which will surely be thrown away if the poison is not absolutely applied in the proper manner. First, you should have a good stand of cotton before even thinking of poisoning, since a good crop would produce little cotton if there were no weevils; second, you should have a prospect for not less than one half bale of cotton per acre before thinking of poisoning and this means that you should have the cotton well fertilized, because land not well fertilized cannot be counted on for good crops when there are no weevils; third, if we knew that the dry weather now in action would continue there would be no necessity of poisoning for hot dry weather is the best weevil exterminator known. But we know not what minute the weather may change and rains start and the weevils begin their terrible onslaught of the cotton crop, and so the prudent man prepares in time of peace for war. It will be good insurance for every farmer who has as much as 40 acres of good cotton to purchase a two row dusting machine and 500 lbs of calcium arsenate so if the weather becomes favorable for weevil action, we will not have to delay several days in getting ready to fight. Fourth, do not begin poisoning before there is a 10 per cent infestation over the entire field. This may be determined by picking all the squares from a dozen or more stalks taken at random over the field, count the punctured squares and figure the percentage of punctured squares to total number of squares on all 12 stalks. If you find one square out of ten punctured then you should begin immediately with dusting machine, using from 5 to 7 lbs of calcium arsenate dust per acre. Apply again on same cotton beginning on the fourth day, until three general applications have been given the cotton four days apart. Then the weevils should be under control and possibly there will be no necessity for another general application of poison. The weevils will probably break out in spots, but these spots may be poisoned instead of dusting the whole field. It is worthless to poison cotton that has no weevils. The poison does not act as a preventive measure, but rather as an exterminator. You must have the weevils in your field in numbers before poisoning will pay. For further information see your county agent.

THE ROWE MEMORIAL SINGING A SUCCESS.
The Elba Sacred Harp singing society had announced that the first Sunday afternoon in June would be used in memory of our deceased Bro. S. N. Rowe. The Judge was a member of our society and a great lover of Sacred Harp music. There were many good singers present, some from adjoining counties and neighboring towns, among them being Mr. J. C. Parks of Brundidge and W. M. Faust of Ozark, and many others that space will not permit mention. The song service was as good as ever was heard in this section, every part of the class was filled with good singers.

The society was called to order by the chairman, B. L. Bryan by singing two good songs. He then appointed Mr. J. C. Parks to sing the introductory lesson. The committee then reported lessons by the following leaders: C. W. Moore, M. M. Messick, J. B. Whitehead, W. J. Wilks, W. M. Faust, M. W. Helms, Chas. Rowe Sr., Lucius Young, A. W. Jones, Bartow Maddox. Good short talks were made by Ambrose Jones and Lucius Young and Bartow Maddox. The chairman then sang two songs by request and was dismissed by prayer.

We thank all the visiting singers and friends for their help. We invite you all back on the first Sunday in July at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Cooperating Farmers of Coffee Get Nice Dividend On Fertilizer Purchases

The Clipper calls special attention today to an advertisement from the Coffee County Farm Bureau, which can be found on the second page of the paper. It will be seen from this advertisement that farmers of the county who have bought their fertilizer through the Farm Bureau, are to be given a dividend or rebate on their purchases. It will be remembered that through the Farm Bureau of the county hundreds of farmers bought their fertilizers cooperatively placing their orders last fall. The prices paid for this fertilizer were the same that wholesale dealers paid. At that time it was not known that any dividend would be coming back, but due to the fact that an enormous amount of fertilizer was handled through the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, through which the County Bureau purchases came, that organization has been able to save an additional sum, and this is being paid to the farmers of Coffee this week. According to the statement a total dividend of $2834.62 has been received by the local Farm Bureau, which is being divided to a rebate or dividend of $1.25 per ton. While the Coffee Farm Bureau has only been organized a short time, through its cooperative work, farmers who are members are receiving their reward. Such splendid results are being obtained that the bureau hopes to increase the membership for the coming year. It is offered by good, sound business farmers, and a membership campaign will be put on in the county beginning next week. Farmers who are not already members should look into the matter thoroughly, and learn of the benefits gained by cooperation.

Four Are Seriously Injured Thursday Morning When Ford Car Wrecks; Dr. Dowell and J. B. Maddox Are Still in Serious Condition

The many friends of Mr. J. B. Maddox, will regret to learn that his condition remains quite serious at the Pike County Masonic Hospital at Troy, where he has been since last Thursday morning following his injury in an automobile wreck. Dr. Spright Dowell, president of the A. P. I. at Auburn, who was also seriously injured in the wreck, is reported as being somewhat improved, although it is not yet known that he is entirely out of danger. The two young boys who were also injured in the wreck have been removed to their homes, according to announcement which comes from Troy. Mr. Maddox received severe burns about the face and body and was bruised terribly, and has been suffering immensely. It was reported at Elba yesterday that physicians had found that he was also suffering from a broken or fractured limb, which only adds to the seriousness of his condition. The cause of the wreck and some of the details are given in the following news dispatch:

Troy, Ala., June 5.—Dr. Spright Dowell, president of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, who was seriously and probably fatally injured Thursday in an automobile accident, was taken to the hospital early Friday morning.

It was reported late Thursday night that Dr. Dowell was in a semi-conscious condition, suffering from a fractured skull and a broken arm, and many bruises about the head and body. He is at the Masonic hospital. Physicians say that it probably will be 48 hours before his exact condition can be ascertained. Mrs. Dowell and members of the Auburn faculty are at the bedside.

Dr. Dowell had been in South Alabama delivering a number of addresses at graduation exercises of high schools and was on his way to Montgomery by car trouble developed and the bus had to stop in Springhill, nine miles south of Troy for repairs. Dr. Dowell was anxious to get to Troy and two young men, Shelby Boutwell and Gordon Graves, aged 18 offered to bring him to Troy, making the trip in Mr. Boutwell's Ford touring car. J. B. Maddox, mail carrier was in the car with them. Two miles beyond Springhill at the old Ballard farm, while the car was going at a rapid rate of speed a rear tire blew out just as the car hit a deep sand bed. The Ford was thrown from the road against a telephone post. The post was broken by the impact and the car torn to pieces.

Dr. Dowell and Mr. Boutwell fell under some of the wreckage. Mr. Boutwell's leg was broken and he was bruised. Mr. Maddox fell near the engine and was badly scalded over his body. Mr. Graves fell clear of the car but his leg was broken.

Doctors Edge and Bowden were summoned from Springhill and gave first aid; then the injured were brought to the Masonic hospital in Troy and Troy physicians assisted in the care of them. Dr. John Blue who was summoned for Dr. Dowell arrived during the morning and thinks his condition very serious.

Dr. Dowell suffered had hemorrhages from nose and ears during the morning and was unconscious up to noon when he partly regained consciousness.

Dr. Dowell and her daughter, Mary, and members of the Auburn faculty motored to Troy as soon as the news of the accident was received in Montgomery.

Besides Mrs. Dowell and her daughter those who were brought to Troy by the accident are: Miss Agnes Ellen Harris, L. N. Duncan, Emmett Sizemore, Roy Dimmitt, Dr. B. F. Thomas, Auburn College Physician, M. J. Funchess of croomie, R. E. Tidwell, Miss Clara Pitts, Miss Danylou Belser of the state education department, Montgomery and J. L. Sibley of the welfare department, Montgomery.

Alabama farmers, through their Farm Bureau, will conduct special exercises in many communities and counties.

REVIVAL AT ENTERPRISE DRAWING BIG CROWDS.

Enterprise, Ala., June 9.—Now that more than a week of the "Jimmie" Smith Revival Campaign has passed, it is the consensus of opinion that Bro. Smith has more than lived up to the enviable reputation and many fine commendations which were heard in Enterprise preceding his coming.

Not only does he preach with great power nightly, but often with remarkable eloquence. Especially was the latter true of his last Sunday night's message on "The Wages of Sin." Possibly the most outstanding feature of his messages, in addition to his unanswerable logic and argument and sparkling wit, is the manner in which he "backs up" his every statement with quotation from the Bible, and challenges proof to the contrary. Quite noticeable is the recurring phrase following a dogmatic statement, "I know this is true for God's Word says," whereupon he quotes the Scripture.

The largest crowds ever seen in Enterprise are attending the services. Beginning with the first Monday night, the crowds grew in size nightly. Hundreds have had to stand in spite of the seating accommodations under the tent for over 2000. A well organized force of over forty ushers efficiently handles the great crowds. A special section convenient to drinking water has been reserved for parents with babies in arms.

The adult chorus, now numbering over 200 voices, is counted almost a miracle by those in the community who happen to know that forty-eight hours before the first service, not a single singer had yet been enrolled for the chorus. But in spite of lack of preliminary organization and rehearsal, the chorus is attracting favorable comment on every hand by its outstanding work under the direction of Mr. Rex Moon, of Terre Haute, Indiana, associate and Music Director with Brother "Jimmie."

On next Sunday evening Brother Smith will preach his famous sermon on the subject "Chickens Will Come Home to Roost." This service will begin somewhat in advance of the regular 7:30 hour.

Every one attending the revival services is urged to bring their Bible or Testament every night.

ELBA BANK & TRUST CO., RECEIVES MEMORIAL COINS.

The first consignment of Confederate Memorial Half Dollars, minted by the United States Government as tribute to the valor of the Soldiers of the South, which are to be simultaneously released throughout the nation on July 3rd, has been received by the Elba Bank & Trust Co., according to an announcement made today by Y. W. Rainer, president.

"Citizens of Elba now have the opportunity of making sure of obtaining some of these coveted Memorial coins on their national distribution July 3rd," said Mr. Rainer "by immediately purchasing coin certificates, redeemable for the actual half dollars on July 3rd."

"As less than two million of the Memorial coins are available to the entire South at this time, the Southern Bankers Committee, arranging details of their distribution has allotted only a limited number to each city and county in the various Southern states. Once these quotas are exhausted no further coins are obtainable."

"The entire South at this time, the Southern Bankers Committee, arranging details of their distribution has allotted only a limited number to each city and county in the various Southern states. Once these quotas are exhausted no further coins are obtainable."

"Not only do these coins have a high sentimental value through this national recognition of our Southern heroes, but they also possess an additional worth since the modest premium at which the coins are sold goes to the completion of the great monument to the Confederacy being carved at Stone Mountain, Georgia."

IN MEMORY OF MRS. T. A. MEDFORD.

On May the 22nd the death angel entered the home of Mr. T. A. Medford and dropped his fatal shaft upon his loving wife Mrs. Dora, and drew a mantle of sadness over the home. Mrs. Medford was a loving woman, and idolized by her husband, brothers, and sisters, and loved by all who knew her throughout the neighborhood.

Late in the afternoon of May the 13th she was struck with paralysis. Trusting in the Lord she bore her pain with patience never groaning or complaining only when it grew so hard. When the news was carried to the settlement her many friends flocked to her bedside, and all that could be done by loving hands and friends, and two Physicians, Dr. M. A. Folsom of Victoria and Dr. Sanders of Troy, was done for her.

Mrs. Medford was born and raised 1 mile from Victoria Alabama. In her early girlhood she met, fell in love with and married Mr. T. A. Medford on Feb. 2, 1888 at the tender age of 18 summers. Mrs. Medford leaves a broken-hearted husband and Bro. Julian Jackson and one sister, Mrs. Georgia Flowers. She was born in 1870, and died May 22, 1925 at the age of 55.

Oh, God, may thy blessings rest upon him who assumes the vast responsibility of taking the helm and guiding the future in this time of great bereavement; give thy blessings to the aged husband, who offered his own life for her; sustain him in this great trial of sorrow and grief, and guide his feet in the paths of peace until his way shall end in the land beyond again the dear one whom he has loved long since and lost awhile. Bless the other members of the family and may they feel near, may they special blessings rest upon Mr. Medford, the husband of our loved dear who lives to mourn the loss of his devoted companion, who journeyed with him up the steps of life until they reached the heights together. May he now hear thee say, "fear thou not for I am with thee, be not dismayed for I am thy God, I will strengthen you; I will help thee, yes, I will uphold thee with the right arm of my righteousness." May he know that the Eternal God is his refuge and when these solemn rites are over and he goes back to the walk of the life alone, may he realize that he is not alone, for thou has said to all of us, "I will be with thee and leave thee, nor forsake thee."

May her whole noble example of confidence and trust in God be inspiration to all those who are called to walk with her. Dora, dear, your vacant chair by our fireside never can be filled, yet it reminds us of a dear one gone. No more can we hear your kind gentle voice, your pleasant smile will greet us no more, the beautiful form we so loved we will see no more, but the love light that gleamed from the mansion above will be the beacon to which we will strive to reach, and some sweet day we will enter the pearly gates where our darling Dora is waiting and watching for husband and the loved ones left behind. Oh, what a meeting there will be, our loved one again clasped to our bosoms. Till then, we will when the spring time comes, place the first and last rose of summer on thy narrow house.

With humble submission to the will of Him who doth all things well, dear Dora, we bid thee a last long farewell. Written by Eunice Martin.

Agent Talks About Boll Weevil Situation; Cooperation The Keynote This Week And Next; Farmers Asked To Join Organization

In scattered sections of Coffee County there seems to be the heaviest emergence of live weevils at this date of any year since 1916, and in every field of early cotton will be found a good many weevils. It would certainly be the part of wisdom and prudence to be prepared to fight these pests if they continue to multiply and increase, which of course they will if the weather is favorable.

Last week we out lined the exact steps to be taken in waging a successful fight on Mr. Boll Weevil, chief of the crowd steps were adequate machinery and calcium arsenate dust. Now if any farmer has a good prospect for a cotton crop where it has been highly fertilized and planted on good cotton land with the good fortune of securing a stand early.

April it will certainly be prepared to fight the weevil at the time he should be exterminated. If you wait till there is a serious infestation generally over the Cotton belt before ordering poison you may expect to be delayed seriously in getting shipment of the poison, and in addition, paying a bigger price.

Cooperation The Keynote This Week And Next.

During the latter half of June Coffee farmers who have not yet joined hands in cooperative farm work will be visited by the best brains in Alabama and have the truth told them first hand about cooperation among farmers and especially what it can and has done for our own farmers in Coffee County.

Hon. John R. Witt, Vice President Alabama Farm Bureau, owner of a big farm in the Tennessee valley in North Alabama is here among us, and his logic and argument is not to be gotten around. He is a man of much experience in all lines of farming activities, and it truly may be said that Uncle John is one of veritable pillars of the farm bureau work in Alabama.

Mr. Parrish, one of Headland's biggest and best and most public spirited farmers is also among us for several days, and will explain how he and other farmers around Headland have found profit by cooperating with other good farmers in Alabama.

These men are not strictly speaking salesmen, but are real dirt Alabama farmers who have seen the light of a new day and feeling a desire to carry that light to others have answered the Macedonian cry, and have come hundreds of miles to help us. This is the best county in Alabama will not turn a deaf ear to these friends but will join the battle cry for a bigger, better and more profitable agriculture in our midst, remembering that it is not the individual nor the army as a whole, but the everlasting team work of every blooming soil that wins the day.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson spent several days at Phillip's Inlet last week.

Mr. Pete Lee left last week for Camp Knox, North Carolina, where he will spend several weeks.

Miss Annierhea Symonds, of Mayhew, Ala., was the guest of Miss Kate Rainer at Elba several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison and Mrs. Fannie Cunningham visited relatives in Enterprise Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Donaldson, of Opp attended the funeral of Mrs. George Morrow, Sr., in Elba Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cooper and Mrs. J. E. Hudson spent several days in Birmingham, the first of the week visiting relatives.

Murder of Samson Farmer With Hammer Charged to Son

Samson, Ala., June 15.—Will Weeks, 26 years old, made a signed confession today to the murder of his father, W. F. Weeks, who died at 8 o'clock Monday morning at an Andalusia hospital from wounds inflicted on the head and body with a hammer according to Sheriff R. C. Grice, of Geneva county. The son is said to have declared that his father had been drinking and abusing his mother, and that he, the son, told her he was "not going to stand for it any longer."

The elder Weeks and his wife quarreled shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Will Weeks is reported to have said and the son attacked the father with a hammer, beating him into unconsciousness. His mother entreated him to stop, the son said.

At the house at the time were W. F. Weeks, the murdered man, Mrs. W. F. Weeks, his wife, Will Weeks, son, his wife, Ernest Weeks, 17, another son, Jim Harper, brother of Mrs. W. F. Weeks, and two small children.

After the elder Weeks had been beaten into unconsciousness, the party in the house left, thinking him dead, according to the story recited at the county jail today, and went to a singing about three miles away. Returning about an hour later, according to the story, Harper rang a farm bell and spread the alarm that some one was dead.

Jim Weeks, brother of W. F. Weeks, approached the house, he is said to have reported, and one of the children ran out and exclaimed "some one has killed papa." The man was found not to be dead, however Weeks said, and he was carried to the Andalusia hospital, where he died Monday morning.

While five arrests were made in connection with the alleged murder, all except Will Weeks, Mrs. W. F. Weeks and Ernest Weeks had been released Monday afternoon. Others that were arrested were Toxie Price and Jim Harper.

Several bruises were said to have been found on Weeks' head and body at the hospital in Andalusia, where he was carried. Physicians declared, however, that the blow that caused his death was one that broke the skull.

Coffee County Boys Make Good Money On Pigs First Year

Auburn, Ala., June 15.—That there is money in raising hogs, if it is done in the right way, is being demonstrated by Joe and Paul Motes, brothers, living in the country five miles from Enterprise.

In May, 1924, these boys joined the pig club after it was explained to them by R. G. Arnold, county agent. To get started right they bought two purebred Duroc-Jersey gilts for which they paid $15.00 each.

A year later they made a report showing the original cost of the pigs was $30.00, the cost of feed was $27.00, treatment for cholera, $10.00, and registration of pigs, $21.00, making a total cost of $116.00.

During this year they had sold 14 pigs for $15.00 each, making a total of $210.00; had the two sows, for which they refused $75.00 each, making a total of $150.00 and had 6 pigs on hand worth $50.00, making a grand total of $410.00. By deducting the cost from the sales plus the value of the hogs on hand they found that their net profit for the year had been $264.00 from two sows.

But above this profit in cash the boys showed that they had learned a great deal about how to raise hogs. Therefore, they are in position to make money raising hogs as long as they are in the business. Mr. Arnold says that the lessons learned are far more valuable than the net profits to date. Their pigs were sold to boys who were starting in pig club work this year.

Mr. Arnold is also very favorably impressed with the partnership which Joe and Paul have formed. Joe looks after the feeding while Paul is the business manager, so to speak, in that he takes care of the financing and keeps records. They can handle the business any day and show just how they stand.

T. A. Sims, State Club leader of Auburn, was in the county recently visiting club boys with Mr. Arnold. He said that the work of these boys is among the very best in the State. They have money on deposit in the bank and are preparing to expand their business.
